Having announced themselves to a UK audience through the release of the visceral debut single, Higher Fire, Franco-German outfit SUN have returned with the release of debut EP Brutal Pop.

SUN is the embodiment of founder and sole member Karoline Rose's brutal pop aesthetic. The project first made an impact on members of the UK's music industry and gig goers alike having impressed at last years The Great Escape Festival in Brighton. Due in no small measure to Rose's captivating stage presence allied to a style of music that transcends categorisation; appealing to young and old, metalheads, pop lovers, contemporary theatre enthusiasts and fashionistas.

The eclectic nature of Rose's influences are borne out in the music she creates. Combining a brooding, atmospheric brand of metal with uplifting pop sensibilities, SUN are, creatively, a multifaceted art project unbound by genre.

SUN will play Les Trans Musicales on 6th December after dazzling founder, Jean Louis Brossard, at The Great Escape. One of the most significant festivals for up and coming artists in France, the show will be filmed and circulated on the likes of France TV, Arte and FIP Radio for the next three years. With the debut EP now available to stream on all formats, and the stunning visuals for ferocious single I Killed My Man due for release, SUN are set to bookend a hugely successful 2019.

Brutal Pop is out now.
